PUBLISHED WEEKLY IN CANAL POINT BY PAUL RARDIN

CIRCULATING THROUGHOUT THE VAST AGRICULTURAL AREA OF PALM BEACH COUNTY

Paul Rardin Retires From Newspaper Business, Sells The Everglades News To Glades Observer In Pahokee

(A Story By Paul Rardin)

33 Years! That's a long time. It is just 33 years and a few days since I came to Canal Point to operate The Everglades News. Now, I've sold the paper to Mrs. Alys Okie, publisher of the Glades Observer in Pahokee. The two newspapers will be merged and the new paper will be known as the EVERGLADES OBSERVER.

The 33 years operation has been a most successful one and I am deeply indebted to the many fine friends and customers who have stuck with me through the more than three decades. Some of the very finest and most outstanding concerns in the Glades have been our customers through the years. We are deeply grateful.

Then, too, I was in politics for two-thirds of that 33 years. First it was a two year term in the State Legislature and then folks were kind enough to elect and reelect me to the office of county commissioner for a period of 20 years.

It has been my pleasure to serve in many civic capacities while living in Canal Point. I served as president of the Pahokee Junior Chamber of Commerce, as Secretary and President of the Pahokee Rotary Club, as a member of the Canal Point Lions Club and I think the most cherished membership I have is that of a "life member in the Canal Point PTA."

I own and publish a monthly magazine—FLORIDA COUNTY OFFICIAL—the official publication of the State Association of County Commissioners. I established it in 1952 and have successfully published it monthly since that date. I shall continue to publish it from Canal Point.

Mrs. Rardin and I plan to continue living in Canal Point where we have some of the very finest neighbors to be found on earth. Mrs. Rardin is pianist at the Canal Point Baptist Church and was just recently elected President of the Woman's Missionary Union of that church.

The past 33 years have been wonderful ones! May coming years be just as good!

Vandegrift, Jr., Is Director Vegetable Group

Purpose of FFVA which was formed in 1943 is to unite efforts of producers, shippers, packers, and processors of Florida agricultural commodities in negotiations with public and private agencies.

The bulbs will be of the same assorted wattages, quality and quantity as in the previous year. The price for eight bulbs of assorted wattages will be $2.06.

It was announced that the club had provided eye examinations and purchased 14 pair of glasses within the past year, as a result of the light bulb sales.

Guests at the meeting were Bob Adams of Clewiston, Deputy District Governor of District 35-D, and Karl Watson of Pahokee.

Want Foster Homes In Glades For Adults

The Glades Office of the Palm Beach County Welfare Department is looking for suitable Foster Homes for Adults. They prefer homes that are owned rather than rented and with someone at home during the day as well as at night.

A homelike atmosphere with access to family activities is the most desirable requirement. In exchange for a room, meals and laundry, the County Welfare will pay $106.00 per month, $5.00 of which is given to the client for his or her own use.

These clients sometimes need help for a few months while waiting for a State Welfare grant, Veterans Pension or Social Security to be issued. They may have been released from a hospital but have no relatives or friends to care for them until they are able to return to work.

There are no Foster Homes in this area and clients are reluctant to go to the coastal area of Palm Beach County as it is unfamiliar to them and they feel insecure away from the Glades area.

If you would like to discuss the Foster Home Program, telephone 996-5511, extension 55, and ask to

Pesticides Swallowing Causes Death

Swallowing or breathing pesticides will produce rapid and sometimes fatal results. But neither of these routes is responsible for a majority of the unintentional poisoning cases involving spraymen in Florida.

Absorption of pesticide through the skin is actually the most dangerous source of poisoning for the applicator in the field, says Entomologist James E. Brogdon of the Florida Agricultural Extension Service.

"Even the most careless operator knows that these poisonous compounds shouldn't be swallowed or inhaled, but chances are he isn't aware of the gradual absorption of pesticide by exposed skin. This source of exposure has been responsible for many poisonings—especially those involving organic phosphorus compounds such as parathion," he said.

Brogdon cited research by the U.S. Public Health Service which points to the dangers of prolonged skin exposure. Results indicate that in most field spraying over 97 percent of the pesticide that enters the body does so through the skin. The remaining 3 per cent or less can enter through inhalation.

Even if only a small fraction of the chemicals that come in contact with the skin are absorbed, it would still be much more than that which enters through inhalation, he said.

Almost all pesticide labels warn users of the danger of prolonged skin exposure, and labels on more toxic compounds even spell out certain kinds of protective clothing, Brogdon said.

Ideally, foremen should see to it that their spraymen are covered from head to foot with waterproof clothing.

Workers Who Apply Pesticide Be Careful

Gainesville, Fla.—"Even though Florida's warm climate increases the discomfort of wearing protective clothing, workers applying toxic pesticides must guard against prolonged exposure to these chemicals."

This warning comes from Dalton S. Harrison, associate agricultural engineer with the Florida Agricultural Extension Service.

Several kinds of new water repellent protective clothing are now available. Many of these are lighter and more comfortable than the old-fashioned heavy rubberized clothing. But cloth garments absorb or soak up spray more easily, and herein lies the danger of having chemicals come in contact with the skin. The answer, he said, is to wash these garment daily.

Harrison warned against wearing rubber gloves whose cloth lining has become contaminated by pesticides over a period of time. If gloves aren't removed, they shouldn't be any problem of contamination on the inside. But, rare is the worker who doesn't remove his gloves to smoke, to adjust the spray machine, or to tear open a bag of pesticide. Gloves with long sleeves provide the most protection, he said.

The agricultural engineer said it is wise to wear rubberized trouser under conditions of heavy spray drift and rubber boots during almost any type of application.

Leather boots or shoes become soaked and deteriorate under repeated use. It is especially important, he said, to prevent exposure to feet that are troubled with dermatitis or athlete's foot. These conditions offer a direct route for absorption of toxic pesticides through the skin.

Attention should also be given to respiratory and oral routes of exposure—especially when toxic dusts or sprays with very small droplets are used, he said.

The gas mask is more effective but also more uncomfortable than respirator. Gas masks should be used when high concentrations of toxic vapors are present or when there is prolonged exposure in confined areas, Harrison stated.

The more commonly used respirators are the half-face masks with one or two filter cartridges. One of the more common offenses in the care of respirators is failing to change the filters regularly.

Oral contamination may result from drift of pesticide onto the lips or mouth area, by contamination of cigarettes or food items, or by careless actions such as trying to blow out clogged spray nozzles.

Harrison urged foremen to note these sources of contamination and make sure that their workers are being protected.

Palm Glades Girl Scouts Lose Members

A study to determine causes of a membership drop in pro-teen and teen members of Girl Scout troops will be initiated by the Palm Glades Girl Scout Council in October, it was announced after a meeting of the Board of Directors in September, (9/20/67).

Program chairman for the six and a half county council area, Mrs. Harry Hassel, disclosed some disturbing membership figures which are of current concern among most youth organizations... including the Boy Scouts, YMCA, YWCA and churches.

Her figures show a significant drop in membership in the Girl Scouts when the young women bridge from the sixth to seventh grades... or enter junior high school programs.

Board members decided to appoint a study group, to include other members of the involved communities in Palm Beach and surrounding counties, after their council-wide session October 30, at the First Federal Savings and Loan Association, in Lake Park. More than two hundred women from the council area will be on hand for this session.

In other actions at the first fall board meeting, the twenty member governing body:

Appointed a by-laws study committee to include Mrs. Samuel Manahan, Mrs. J. L. Malo and Mrs. Clyde Canipe to up-date the council rules.

Approved the appointment of Joseph Melman of Lake Worth as member-at-large on the Board of Directors, term ending January, 1969.

Heard a report from Camp Chairman James Grant, on a successful established camping program at Camp Welaka in Jupiter during the summer and agreed to promote plans for expanding the present four day camp program to a nine session endeavor next summer with additional site in the Boca Raton, Fort Pierce, Stuart and Belle Glade areas.

Voted to undertake an intensive program of soliciting tax-deductible, sustaining memberships, to begin at $10, among interested citizens and civic groups.

Endorsed a plan submitted by the program committee for a Heritage conference for senior Girl Scouts, August 4-9, 1968, at Camp Welaka.

Agreed to begin a new Pilot training project for both leaders and girl with training October 18, under the chairmanship of Mrs. John E. Smith, of Delray Beach.

George Jackson returned to Canal Point from Ft. Hood, Texas, on Tuesday after completion of his tour of duty with the U. S. Army.

Taylor Circle In Regular Meeting Thurs.

Mrs. Charles Maxson was hostess to the Alberta Taylor Circle of the Canal Point Baptist Church on Thursday, September 21, with seven members and one visitor, Mrs. Paul Kardin, president of the W. M. U. of the Canal Point Baptist Church.

Mrs. Guy Thompson presented the program, "Missions in the Community." She was assisted by Mrs. Millard Huff, Mrs. Cecil Hall, Mrs. J. H. Strayer and Mrs. Arnold Scruggs.

Members voted to keep the same officers for the 1967-68 year. They are: Mrs. Cecil Hall, chairman; Mrs. Charles Maxson, co-chairman; Mrs. Shelby Cumpton, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Edwin Griffiths, publicity; Mrs. J. H. Strayer, prayer chairman; Mrs. Arnold Scruggs, social chairman; Mrs. Perry Hall, mission study chairman; Mrs. Paul Maynor, children's home chairman; Mrs. Millard Huff, community missions and Mrs. Guy Thompson, program, stewardship and membership chairman.

Small Car Refunds Being Made By State

Tallahassee—Fred O. (Bud) Dickinson, Jr., Comptroller of Florida, today said that his office has been swamped by more than 20,000 applications for small car license tax refunds.

Dickinson said that the first block of approximately 12,000 warrants, averaging $5 each, is currently being mailed on a "first applied, first served" basis to the owners of small cars who are eligible for the refund under a State Supreme Court opinion handed down this year.

"Yet many of these are being returned because we have been supplied with incorrect or insufficient addresses," said Dickinson, urging all those seeking refunds to fill out the application forms as completely as possible. The forms are obtainable from Dickinson's office, or locally, from the offices of county tax collectors.

Dickinson said that the County Finance Department of the Comptroller's Office is presently processing more than 6,000 additional applications for refund.

"Still, applications are pouring into our office at the rate of about 150 a day, and each week we receive well over 100 requests for application forms," Dickinson added.

"Everyone who is entitled to a refund will get one, however, the people will have to bear with us. We have only one department with a staff of less than ten people to handle this work and these employees, as well, are strapped with their normal full work load," he said.

"Too, our budget simply does not have the funds to hire additional personnel even temporarily."

America needs your help.

There is a new plan for Americans who want to help their country as they help themselves. Now, when you buy U.S. Savings Bonds through Payroll Savings where you work or the Bond-a-Month Plan where you bank, you are also entitled to purchase the new higher-paying Freedom Shares. They are available on a one-for-one basis with Savings Bonds in four denominations and are redeemable after one year. Sign up soon.

Questions and answers about Freedom Shares.

Q. What are Freedom Shares?
A. They are the new U.S. Savings Notes—a companion product to the Series E Savings Bond.

Q. Who may buy Freedom Shares?
A. Any individual who purchases Series E Bonds regularly through a formal plan—either Payroll Savings where he works or Bond-a-Month where he banks.

Q. What is the interest rate on Freedom Shares?

A. 4.74% compounded semiannually, when held to maturity of 4 1/2 years. The rate is less if redeemed prior to maturity; and they may not be redeemed for at least one year.

Q. Does this same rate now apply to E Bonds?

A. No. E Bonds continue to return an average of 4.15% when held to their seven-year maturity.

Q. What do Freedom Shares cost?

A. They are issued in face amounts of $25, $50, $75, and $100. Purchase prices are $20.25, $40.50, $60.75, and $81.00.

Q. Can Freedom Shares be bought by themselves?

A. No. They must be bought in conjunction with E Bonds of the same or larger face amounts. For example, a $25 Freedom Share may be bought with a $25 E Bond, when on a regular plan. The total price would be $39 ($20.25 for the Freedom Share and $18.75 for the Bond).

Q. Can I buy as many Freedom Shares as I want, as long as I buy E Bonds of the same or larger amounts?

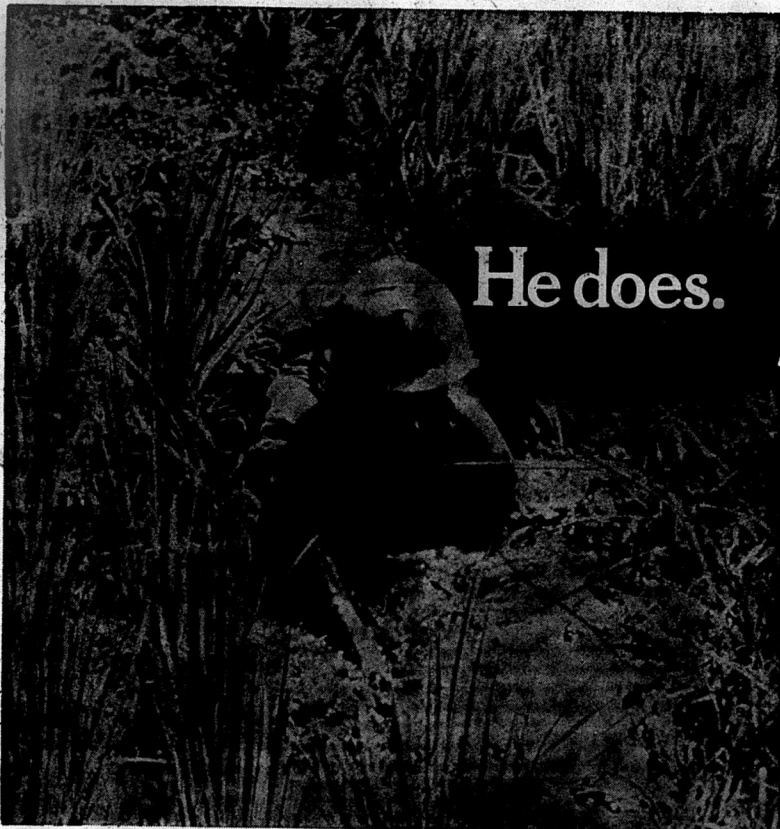

A. No. On Payroll Savings, Freedom Share deductions are limited to $20.25 per weekly pay period, $40.50 per bi-weekly or semi-monthly pay period, $81.00 per monthly pay period. On Bond-a-Month, the limit on Freedom Share deductions is $81.00 per month.

NEW FREEDOM SHARES

What are they? Who may buy them?

Americans have put their savings to work for freedom through U.S. Savings Bonds for many years. New Freedom Shares do the same job . . . plus. Read how.

Freedom Shares are U.S. Savings Notes. They pay a higher return than Savings Bonds, 4.74% when held to maturity. And they mature in just four-and-a-half years.

For regular Bond-buyers only

These new Freedom Shares—which are not redeemable for the first year—are offered on a one-for-one basis with E Bonds, but only to people who belong to the Payroll Savings Plan where they work or the Bond-a-Month Plan where they bank.

There are four denominations of Freedom Shares, each of which may be paired with a Series E Bond of the same or larger denomination, as a "package." For instance, for $39 total, you can purchase a Savings Bond that matures at $25 and a Freedom Share that matures at $25.

America needs your help

When you buy Savings Bonds and Freedom Shares you do an important job for freedom, backing our men in Vietnam and helping to keep the country economically strong. The need is urgent. What you do counts.

Sign up

Tell your supervisor or the Payroll Department where you work (or any officer where you bank) that you'd like to join a Bond purchase plan. Decide how much you'll save . . . whether you want Freedom Shares as well as Bonds . . . and just sign the authorization card.

You'll be helping your country as you help yourself; the country needs your help.
